TODAY's OUTLINE

Eloquent Relationship: <https://laravel.com/docs/9.x/eloquent-relationships>

Defining Relationships

Eloquent relationships are defined as methods on your Eloquent model classes. Since relationships also serve as powerful query builders, defining relationships as methods provides powerful method chaining and querying capabilities. For example, we may chain additional query constraints on this `posts` relationship:

One To One: Database & Model

v	umn_genap2122_pemweb_w10_jetlive	users
🔑	id	: bigint(20) unsigned
📄	name	: varchar(255)
🔑	email	: varchar(255)
🕒	email_verified_at	: timestamp
📄	password	: varchar(255)
📄	remember_token	: varchar(100)
🕒	created_at	: timestamp
🕒	updated_at	: timestamp

v	umn_genap2122_pemweb_w10_jetlive	posts
🔑	id	: bigint(20) unsigned
#	user_id	: int(10) unsigned
📄	title	: varchar(255)
📄	content	: text
🕒	created_at	: timestamp
🕒	updated_at	: timestamp
#	is_admin	: tinyint(1)
🕒	deleted_at	: timestamp
